FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Change in Schedule

Granbury, Texas – Dec. 12, 2018

When putting on a large-scale, outdoor production, the safety of our volunteers and patrons is our utmost concern. Due to unforeseen circumstances, The Granbury Living Christmas Cards has decided to alter its schedule this year to a Saturday-night-only event. While weather conditions are looking favorable for Friday night, wind gusts and rain during the day will prevent us from setting up the cards safely. However, we will be able to set them up in time for Saturday night to go as originally planned.

We acknowledge and apologize for the inconvenience this causes those of you who were planning on attending the event on Friday. We invite you to join us on Saturday night, Dec. 15. The forecast looks to be a beautiful, chilly, Christmas-y night. The free hot chocolate will start flowing around 5:30 PM. The cards will come to life at 6:30 PM, and the program will conclude around 8:30 PM. However, we invite you to stay around afterwards, as many of our Granbury square merchants and restaurants will stay open late for shoppers.

We hope you understand our safety concerns. This decision was not made lightly. Please join us on Saturday night, as we continue to offer this free, family-friendly tradition – just one great part of Christmas in Granbury!
