Brief History of the Cemetery

In 1822 the cemetery property was deeded to the public by James J. Roosevelt. The first burial was that of Mrs. Anna Goodspeed who died on April 16th, 1822.

The cemetery was incorporated during the Civil War under the name of Hillside Cemetery Association, which was given its name by Mrs. Armanelle Devendorf who together with Mrs. G.F. Boynton and Mr. Lewis Fancher solicited funds in 1893 for the receiving vault which is no longer in use, but still remains in good condition at the cemetery.

On January 1, 2000, the Hillside Cemetery Association deeded the property to the Village of Central Square for perpetual care. The Village Board adopted the name Hillside Memorial Cemetery and Mayor Millard Murphy appointed Bruce Meldrim as Cemetery Commissioner.
